

Dr. Grama Ravi graduated from Marks Medical College in India and did his internal medicine training at State University of New York in New York. Subsequently he received his cardiology training in Saskatoon and finished his angioplasty training at St. Michael's Hospital in Toronto. Currently he is the Clinical Director of the Critical Care Program and an Interventional Cardiologist at Health Sciences North in Sudbury.

Return to EDUCATION DAY IN ACHD 2017 Website